

Primary Packaging Company, Baralan, Introduces Precision Droppers for Skincare Products

New “Dropper 24” and “Large Dropper 19” suitable for various skincare products and essential oils.

Baralan, a leader in primary packaging for the cosmetics and beauty industries, has introduced Dropper 24 for bottles with a size 24/410 neck, and Large Dropper 19 for bottles with a size 18/400 neck. The latest additions to Baralan’s range of accessories for glass packaging, both Dropper 24 and Large Dropper 19 were developed to deliver precision dosing application of skincare products and essential oils.

Offering users exemplary control during application, Baralan’s Dropper 24 and Large Dropper 19 provide easy product dispensing directly to the skin in the desired amount. Designed with functionality in mind, the droppers effectively manage product flow from the bottle, aiming to avoid leaks and significantly reduce waste for high-value products. Both new droppers are available with silicone or nitrile nipples. In addition, Dropper 24 and Large Dropper 19 come in various colors for high levels of customization.

“Baralan continually aims to offer a broad, diversified range of accessory options that are functional, yet elegant in design,” said Maurizio Ficcadenti, Global R&D Manager at Baralan. “Dropper 24 and Large Dropper 19 were created with this goal in mind, giving brands new and attractive ways to meet the needs of their customers.”
